Hi fb had an add selling selling diamond paintings. It is a scam which I got caught out. Do NOT buy from company E-Moon Asia Co., LTD
If you Google you will also find many others lost there money as well.
Letting you know in hope no one else gets stung. I can't even find the add now on my fb but may be on other peoples.
Regards
Sue

I think I have been scammed from this company as well. I purchased a leather repair kit from them on the 12 of August through Paypal. Didn't get a confirmation email or delivery information from the vendor. No communication whatsoever. Going to website doesn't help either. It redirects you to another website products completely unrelated and also in Vietnamese.

I received leather repair cream after about 2 months and it was bogus. It was like elmers glue in a container. I requested my money back however didn't want to invest even more money for shipping it back to Vietnam. Not a reputable company.

I ordered the leather repair cream in July. Never came. No response to emails and Facebook was empty. This is a bogus fraudulent company! Contact you credit card company and report payment as fraud. You may get reimbursed. Paypal is no help.

wish I had seen this sooner, I have just let PayPal know as I am still waiting on an order. Same thing re: website as others and cannot find them on FB now.....seriously there are some lousy people out there. PayPal will hopefully get my money back for me.
